STATE LEAGUE CHANGES.

Waterbury and New Britain Teams Sold.

Hartford, July 11.—At a meeting of the directors of the Connecticut State Baseball league, held tonight, the Waterbury and New Britain teams changed owners. Daniel O'Neill, the owner of the Waterbury team, sold his franchise to James Murphy of Plainville, and O'Neill in turn bought the Waterbury franchise. By the terms of the deal, O'Neill will take with him from the New Britain team Pitcher Brown, and Murphy is to have the pick of any man on the Waterbury team. The Cubans sold by O'Neill to Cincinnati are released and sold or drafted. The two owners will split the money made thereby. No other business was transacted.

Will of Clarissa Clark.

The will of Mrs. Clarissa Clark has been admitted to probate and Judge Lucius Brown has qualified as executor. The executors named are Wright Hough and Allyn L. Brown. By her will she orders a stone in the Avery cemetery in Ledyard, to cost about $100. She leaves to her sister, Charity H. Satterlee of Tolland, the sum of $400, and the residue of her estate to Mary Frances Tibbets of this city.

New London Water Without Pressure.

The great which New London had on Lincoln avenue Monday were the worst this city has known in a long time. The failure of the water supply to be of sufficient force to extinguish the flames is lamentable. The city should lose no time in remedying that phase of the trouble which threatens in that section.—New London Globe.

RUB OUT THAT PAIN

The trainers of athletes—baseball players, boxers, runners, vaulters, hurdlers, jumpers, wrestlers, etc., all rub out the pain with some liniment when their performers are bruised or agnained.

They know what's best. Put

ARMY PREPARE FOR DUTY

Leave Next Week For Ten Days at Fort Wright, Fishers Island—Local Companies Leave by Train This Year.

At the Army on Tuesday evening the members of the 10th company, A. C., were busy rolling their blankets and getting their equipment ready for the ten days tour of duty at Fort G. Wright, at Fishers Island, July 20 to 30. Company orders for the duty were read by Captain Tarbox, and the members were scurrying about seeing that all the necessary parts of their individual equipment were ready. Many were getting their new rubber shoes, trying them on and taking them home to break them in before the ten days at camp. This is a wise precaution to prevent sore feet. There were two enlistments.

By order of Colonel Fitch of the Coast Artillery corps, a working detail of a commissioned officer and four privates, including one cook, from each company, and the cook for the band will leave their home stations at an hour to enable them to report to camp headquarters at the New London station at 7 a. m. July 19, 1911. In this city, Captain W. G. Tarbox is directed to hire wagons for the transportation of the baggage and equipment of the two companies.

The 10th company, A. C., and non-commissioned officers will leave their home stations and report at Fort Wright on July 19, 1911. The 10th company, A. C., is commanded by Captain F. G. C. Smith, adjutant; Sergeant Major Herman A. Schupp, Post Company Sergeant J. A. Hunt, and Sergeant J. A. Hunt, adjutant. All enlisted men are directed to ship their olive drab caps and their personal baggage to the 10th company, A. C., at Fort Wright.

The baggage from the local companies will leave here at 4:30 on July 19, 1911. The baggage from the 10th company, A. C., will report at 7 a. m. July 19, 1911, at Fort Wright.
